

Land of Opportunity

America is a land of opportunity, a place where riches are within anyone's reach. You just need to reach out and grab the golden ring when it comes your way. Sometimes you don't even need a new opportunity to arise to become rich, you just add to what already is and let the marketing giants bring it to life.

Friends we have the greatest marketing people in the world here in the good ol' USA. It is a business, a science and an art; some even say what marketers/advertising people can do is magic. Those in the business say they have barely scratched the surface of what they can get people to purchase and believe. Yes it is control and those who are good at it get rich, really rich. And isn't that the true American dream, to get rich and richer, then richer still?

If P.T. Barnum knew what marketers/advertising people accomplished today he would be turning over and over in his grave. If ol' P.T. had those skills when he was alive, he would have said a sucker is born every second rather than one every minute.

So you are probably wondering how you can get a piece of that American pie. Well my fellow Americans, let me tell you...

The greatest feat American marketers/advertising people have ever sold the gullible American public has been to rise to prominence one of the least useful parts of a chicken and make it a household word. So great that it is now being branched out to the rest of the world and people are clamoring for it. Yes, you know what it is. I'll bet you've eaten one. It is the chicken wing (aka, buffalo wing or hot wings). It is still an almost useless piece of chicken. But do Americans call it a useless piece of chicken anymore? No! America, and soon the rest of the world, will believe a chicken wing is the greatest part of a chicken! You think that I am joking? How many chicken parts have their own restaurants? Look around your neighborhood if you do not believe me.

Here is where I want to present to you - a way that we, my friends, can become rich overnight. There is a part of a chicken that no one ever talks about but every chicken has. Our great American marketers/advertising people don't even know it exists (probably the same for a chicken wing too before it was presented to them), and that will be something new to sell to the masses. We know how everyone wants something new!

It is the Chicken's Asshole! Yes, with our American marketers/advertising people we can turn this little piece of chicken into real golden nuggets. We can have fried assholes, baked assholes, barbecued assholes, candied assholes, chocolate assholes, creamed assholes, the possibilities are endless! But, my friends, it gets better. We can freeze dry those chicken assholes. Why? We can have chicken assholes jewelry! Think about it, freeze-dried chicken assholes in different colors on various lengths of string. A chicken asshole necklace! A chicken asshole bracelet or anklet! The possibilities are endless!

Let me tell you that a chicken asshole piece of jewelry is even more valuable than real jewelry. It is! If you get hungry, rip you off an asshole and pop that sucker into your mouth for low fat tasty treat. For our American marketers/advertising people this is a dream come true, the holy grail of selling things to Americans. Hell, they would probably work for free to get this one going just for the credit their work will achieve.

I know you are asking can a chicken asshole restaurant make it on its own? Here is the good part my friends. We don't have to start a new restaurant. We attach it to one already in existence and that is already doing great business. Yep, you got it...we will put it together with chicken wings. It will be a win, win situation! We will call it "Assholes and Elbows®." Didn't I tell you this would be great!

Not only can you get chicken to eat at Assholes and Elbows®, you can get jewelry too. Think about the kids; we may put McDonald's out of business, and we won't need a clown to do it. Think of the excitement at parties and events. With a little bit of research we can probably find a way to make them glow too. Hell, with Halliburton on our side we can get the military to purchase them, probably at $50 an asshole.

Think about the GOP at their national convention, assholes eating assholes. And they would brag about it as they all own stock in Halliburton!

So hurry now. Don't be left behind on this one. Call 1-888-Asshole. Have your credit card handy, and become one of the newest billionaires in America. Operators are standing by, waiting on your call.
